Small white light. Similar to Star Rigel. At 60 deg elevation 110 deg az. Erratic motion.		Motion and location indicated that the star VEGA was observed, however as 3rd mate on a ship this astronomical body should be well known. Possibility that star was distorted by unusual atmospheric conditions could lead to misinterpretatio of this body. Rpt insufficiently detailed for evaluation. Vega likely culprit.

27. In the following sketch, imagine that you are at the point shown. Place an "A" on the curved line to show how high the object was above the horizon (skyline) when you first saw it. Place a "B" on the same curved line to show how high the object was above the horizon (skyline) when you last saw it. Place an "A" on the compass when you first saw it. Place a "B" on the compass where you last saw the object.

28. Draw a picture that will show the motion that the object or objects made. Place an "A" at the beginning of the path, a "B" at the end of the path, and show any changes in direction during the course.

29. IF there was MORE THAN ONE object, then how many were there?

Draw a picture of how they were arranged, and put an arrow to show the direction that they were traveling.

UFO SIGHTING ()

Hq 8AR, Westover AFB, Massachusetts Attention: Major William Berrie

- 1. We have received a completed form from the SS MORMACEPENN. The reported direction of flight, description of the object and other characteristics of the sighting indicate a possible satellite observation; however, the flight path of the object contained three distinct maneuvers which included the objects crossing its own path. The specific duration did not include the time-motion sequence of these maneuvers. If the waver in flight was brief, this could be caused by unusual atmospheric conditions; however, if the motion surrounding this portion of the sighting consumed a significant part of the eight minute duration, this would rule out a satellite observation. No mention was made of the manner of disappearance of the object other than that the object disappeared in the east at about 60 degrees elevation. If the motion was generally steady, the object observed was probably a satellite.
- 2. The description presented by Mr. Presents some characteristics of an astronomical sighting; however, as 3rd Mate of the SS MORMACEPENN, he should be familiar with the major astronomical bodies. The Star Vega was at an elevation of 60 degrees and an azimuth of 090 degrees, very close to the position reported. If the motion of the object was confined to a very small area, it is possible that Vega was the cause of the sighting.
- 3. If the object cannot be correlated with a satellite observation or with the Star Vega, we can offer no other explanation. The information presented was insufficiently detailed to present a firm evaluation of this sighting.

Date: June 24, 1964

FROM:

SUBJECT:

Unidentified Flying Object

REF:

The following matter is reported for whatever action you may deem appropriate:

Captain Master of the SS MORMACPENN,
Official No. 250541, visited the Consulate General on June 23, 1964 to ask if there remained any U.S. Government interest in reports of Unidentified Flying Objects. The Master was told that we had no recent instructions, but would forward a summary of his information to the appropriate authorities.

Captain (who did not have his log book with him) stated that in early June, while approximately 600 miles NW Asuncion Island, he, Second Officer and and Third Officer (Captain arrival at Asuncion Island, where the vessel called outbound from Port Canaveral, the Captain attempted to report the matter to the local U.S. Air Force installation, but was unsuccessful in establishing contact with any personnel there.

The SS MORMACPENN is due to arrive in Boston mid-August, and the Captain and his two officers may be debriefed at that time if the Air Force, should it still have an interest in UFO reports, wish to secure more details.
